STOCK CHARACTERS--Drummer Patty Noll leads a merry crew of frontier characters in the 14th annual Sudbury-Canada Days children's parade. This year's affair--held under an unusually dry and sunny sky--attracted scores of people to the grounds of the Dr. Moses Mason House. There they took part in a wide variety of festivities intended to celebrate the town's rich past. In addition to a lecture and silent film, this year's event included a flower show, historical slides and videos, a log drivers' homemade bean supper, an open house at the Sunday River Schoolhouse, old-time sing-along farming and logging exhibits and more. Redistricting shakes things up

Senate seat up for grabs, but only minor House changes

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Maine's next statewide election is more than a year off, but the recent legislative redistricting has already claimed one local casualty--State Sen. Ida Luther, D-Mexico, has announced that she will not seek reelection to her Senate seat.

Luther currently represents Senate District 8, which includes all of the SAD44 towns except Woodstock and Greenwood.

Under the redistricting, the boundary of Luther's district (to be called District 24) would shift to the south, to include the towns of Woodstock, Greenwood and Albany Township, and other traditionally Republican towns in southern Oxford County.

The district would lose the Democratic stronghold of Jay and other Franklin County towns. Those towns, and their Democratic votes, will move into the district currently represented by Senate Minority Leader Charles Webster, R-Farmington.

Luther said her advisers have estimated it would cost between $30,000 and $40,000 to run a successful campaign in the new district.

She announced recently that instead of attempting to defend her Senate seat, she will run for the newly created House district comprising Mexico, Peru, Dixfield and Roxbury.

Luther represented House District 52 (which includes Woodstock) before being elected to the Senate in 1992.

Pols follow population shifts
The newly-drawn legislative districts are the result of population shifts revealed by the 1990 U.S. Census. Based on census figures gathered every 10 years, legislative district lines are redrawn so that each legislator represents roughly the same number of constituents as other members of the House or Senate.

Technically, legislators now in office will continue to represent the

DEP probes bulldozing of Newry's Great Brook

By WENDY HANSCOM

The Maine Department of Environmental Protection is investigating the illegal bulldozing of a Newry brook, where a section of boulders has been pushed out of the brook bed and onto the bank.

The bulldozing took place in 30-foot long section of Great Brook. The brook is in the Bear River valley and crosses Route 26 roughly three miles north of the intersection of routes 2 and 26.

"It's clearly a violation of the state law that protects brooks," said Greg Bean, an enforcement officer from the DEP's Portland office. "I don't know who did the work. The state has prohibited putting a bulldozer in a stream and dredging up the bottom for 20 years or so."

"It's a severe violation," he said. "It's a trout stream. It's what we would consider a high-value brook. We're pretty concerned, especially when I can look at a job done like that and see an environmentally sound alternative."

Bean said the work was apparently done to prevent that section of the brook from spilling over its bank during high water.

"There are ways we could protect that bank and not disturb the brook by mucking around with a bulldozer," Bean said.

If a need could have been proven, he said, boulders could have been hauled from an outside source to shore up the bank. The work would require a DEP permit, Bean said, and the department would also oversee the project.

Whoever is responsible for disturbing the brook bed could face fines and/or be asked to pay for restitution, Bean said.

"We would have to assess whether or not it was worth putting the brook back to its natural state," he said.

Bean said he will talk to neighbors in the area to see if they know who may have done or ordered the work.

Tire dumpers don't consent

By WENDY HANSCOM

Peter and Susan Gordon of Greenwood have missed the deadline for signing a Department of Environmental Protection consent agreement. The order would have required them to bring their Rabbit Road tire dump in compliance with state law or face possible prosecution.

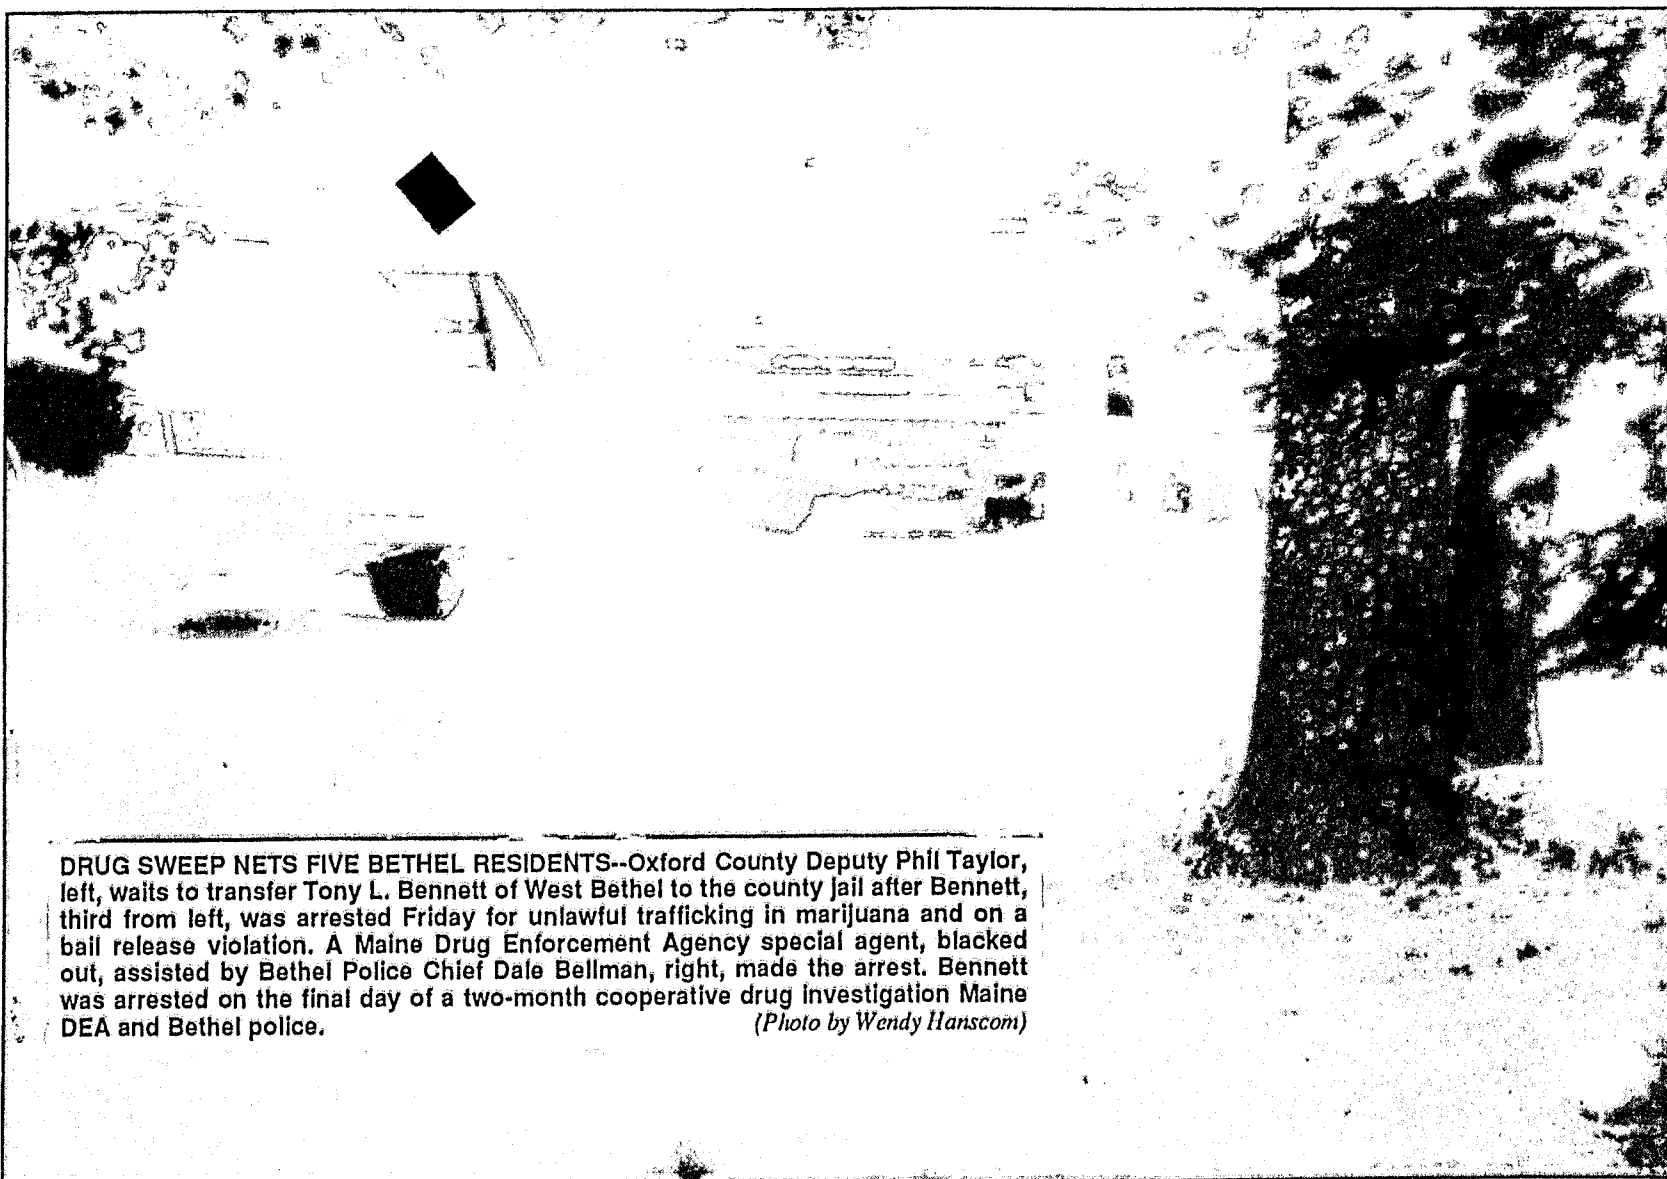

The deadline for signing the order was last Thursday, Aug. 12. DEP Environmental specialist Michael Park said he has set up a meeting on Aug. 24 with the Gordons. The meeting was at the request of the Gordons.

"We're going to sit down and talk about the consent agreement," Parker said. "That's not an unusual option for people to take."

The details of the agreement will not be made public unless the Gordons sign it and the Board of Environmental Protection approves it.

Parker said the gist of the proposal calls for the Gordons to move tires from the dump and guarantee an ongoing outflow to a recycling source. The agreement also set time limits for compliance, he said.

The Gordons were unavailable for comment.

Bethel drug sweep leads to 5 arrests

By WENDY HANSCOM

Five Bethel residents have been arrested and several marijuana plants confiscated as the result of a two month joint investigation by the Maine Drug Enforcement Agency and the Bethel Police Department.

"Operation Stearns," named in honor and memory of former Bethel Police Chief Bob Stearns, was initiated by Bethel Police Chief Dale Bellman after he received numerous citizen complaints about drug activities in Bethel.

Bellman contacted the Maine DEA for help and Special Agent Tony Milligan was assigned to the operation.

The two-month investigation concluded Friday with the arrest of Tony L. Bennett, 27, of West

Arrest in school zone

Also on Friday, police arrested Nancy Paul of Bethel for aggravated trafficking in scheduled drugs.

Milligan said Paul sold a variety of prescription drug pills to an undercover agent. The charge is considered a felony crime because she sold the drugs from her Bethel House apartment, which is within 1,000 feet of a school--Gould Academy, he said.

Paul consented to a search at the time of her arrest, and police seized several different kinds of prescription drugs from her apartment, Milligan said.

Paul's case is also expected to be presented to the next grand jury

Bethel and Nancy Paul, 22, of Bethel. Bennett was arrested at his home on the Flat Road for unlawful trafficking in marijuana and violations of conditions of release.

Milligan said Bennett sold a "substantial amount" of marijuana to an undercover agent.

"When he did," Milligan said, "he also violated a condition of his bail by committing new criminal conduct."

Bennett had been out on bail, Milligan said, on charges stemming from a May 1 incident involving criminal threatening with a dangerous weapon at the James Westleigh residence in Gilad.

If Bennett is convicted of unlawful trafficking in marijuana, he faces a maximum sentence of up to one year in jail and a $2,000 fine. If convicted of violating his release conditions, the maximum sentence is six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Bennett's case is expected to be presented to the next grand jury in September, Milligan said.

next month, he said.

If convicted, Paul faces a maximum sentence of up five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Earlier arrests

Earlier in the "Operation Stearns" investigation, the Maine DEA and Bethel police arrested three other Bethel residents on drug-related charges.

Randolph Mills, 42; Michael McAllister, 20; and Joyce McAllister, 27 were arrested on June 29 for aggravated trafficking in marijuana by cultivation.

Police had obtained a search warrant, Milligan said, which allowed them to enter the residence and search for marijuana and other drug related evidence. Police seized 20 marijuana plants growing around the residence, a variety of pills, marijuana seeds, paraphernalia and other drug-related evidence, Milligan said.

The charges were elevated (aggravated) to a felony because when

COMP. PLANNERS NEEDED

To the Editor:

The purpose of this letter is not commentary on the town's position on the state-offered grant to fund revision of Bethel's 1986 Comprehensive Plan. All who read these pages thoughtfully understand the ramifications of the outcome of the recent special town meeting.

The Bethel Planning Board had moved to update and revise the Comprehensive Plan before a great majority of approximately 200 voters rejected the grant on June 21. At the suggestion of some concerned citizens, in March the Planning Board appointed a six-member Comprehensive Plan Steering Committee that included Planning Board member Don Feeney and Selectman Norm Putnam.

That committee recommended that the Comprehensive Plan be updated and revised to include "data, factual information, and maps. The new plan should also satisfy A through J of the State Implementation Strategy section of Title 30-A, Chapter 187, Planning and Land Use Regulation, Sub-chapter II dealing with Growth Management." The committee recommended that work be completed by local volunteers at "minimal cost to the town" (the grant would have had the town add $6,118 to the state's $18,355) and adopted by 1996.

Accepting the Comprehensive Plan Steering Committee's report, the Planning Board agreed to form a committee by summer's end so that the process of updating and revision can begin in the fall.

My purpose here, of course, is to call for volunteer participation in this great venture. The importance of community involvement cannot be overstated. It is vital to success.

What do you think of Bethel today? What would you have change...or not change? The critical word is "change," isn't it? Some welcome it. Some fear it. We cannot ignore it.

Part of Bethel's charm lies in its natural resources. We are also blessed with exceptional human resources. My hope is that our town will draw upon that latter to preserve the former along with other community resources and values. Sound planning will best evolve from a broadbased mix of women, men, old, young (I would like to see high school students involved) of divergent backgrounds, occupations, interests, and viewpoints.

I ask concerned citizens to join others who have already expressed active interest in anticipating change rather than reacting to it. Call or visit the town office to make your intentions known.

There will be an updated and revised Town of Bethel Comprehensive Plan ready for adoption by 1996. Be part of it.

Chairman, Bethel Planning Board

HIKE/WALK/RUN LOGO

To the Editor:

The Mahoosuc Arts Council is looking for a new design to be used for the Fifth Annual Hike/Walk/Run T-shirt. The Council would like to invite interested artists to collaborate with the Arts Council by submitting designs to the Mahoosuc Office by Aug. 31.

The Hike/Walk/Run is an annual fundraising event for Mahoosuc Arts and will take place on Saturday, Oct. 9, at the Sunday River Ski Resort.

The council is interested in a design that could be for general use as well. The design should incorporate the many aspects of the arts, as well as the hike/walk/run component. The creator of the design chosen for the shirts will receive two complimentary shirts and her/his signature will be printed on the shirts. The design does not have to be camera ready and can be screen printed with a maximum four-color process.

For more information please call the Mahoosuc Arts Office at 824-3575. The office is located in Bingham Hall at Gould Academy.

MCS IS TOPS

To the Editor:

When my son finished the fifth grade at the Woodstock School last June, he was awarded a scholarship to attend the Maine Conservation School Summer Camp for one week in July. I want to commend the Conservation School for providing a well-organized, competently-taught and highly-diversified program. My son came home with a wealth of information on plants and animals, eco-systems, hunter-safety, wilderness survival and cooperative games.

It was his first time at overnight camp and I felt he was well cared for by the counselors, given some priceless environmental education and also had a lot of fun. I also feel very lucky that our community has something so worthwhile to offer our children who aren't drawn to competitive sports in the summer. Thanks to Steve Elia and all of you at the Conservation School who gave my son such a wonderful summer experience.

From the Bethel Police log: Horses wander; bike disappears

On Saturday Police responded to a report of horses wandering on the East Bethel Road. When the police arrived the animals had been rounded up.

Also on Saturday a West Bethel resident reported a stolen mountain bike valued at $350 when new, and police responded to a report of telephone and cable television wires down in Steam Mill Village.

Also on Saturday police responded to a report of a man refusing to pay for a pizza at Breaux's dairy shop on Route 26. Police told the man he could be charged with theft of services if he continue to refuse to pay for the pie. He eventually paid.

Redistricting

districts they were elected to serve in 1992. But when the next round of legislative elections are held in 1994, those seeking re-election will compete in the newly-drawn districts approved by the court.

The final form of the new districts was determined by the Maine Supreme Judicial Court, after a bipartisan legislative reapportionment commission failed to come up with a plan acceptable to both political parties.

Local changes in store

Luther said she was announcing her intention not to run again for the Senate "so other good candidates can raise the money for a good race."

Her departure means there will be no incumbent in next year's race. Bethel Republican Carl Hansen, who ran unsuccessfully against Luther last year, has announced his intention to seek the new (District 24) seat, as has long-term Oxford County Commissioner Norman Ferguson Jr. of Hanover.

The two are likely to face off in a Republican, primary, according to GOP County Chairman Stan Howe.

In the 1992 election Hansen outpolled Luther heavily in Bethel and its surrounding towns, but he was swamped by Democratic votes from the labor strongholds of Rumford, Mexico and Jay.

But with the redistricting, Jay Democrats have been shifted to the Franklin County Senae district, making the local district more winnable for Republican candidates.

"One of the last strong bastions of labor in the area will be taken down. With one sweep of the pen they've shattered it," Luther said.

The seat is still winnable for the Democrats, Luther said, but it's going to take more effort and decidedly more money.

"I'm going to support anyone who can raise the money," she said, "but raising that kind of money is not how I want to spend my own time."

According to Luther a number of Democrats have expressed an interest in running since she announced she was bowing out.

Redistricting's impact on local House districts is likely to be less dramatic.

Rep. Alvin L. Barth Jr., R-Bethel, will continue to represent a wide area of largely smaller towns in Oxford and Franklin counties, but his district will be extended eastward to include Stoneham, Eustis and Madrid, and Coplin and Dallas plantations, Andover and Andover West Surplus will also become part of the district; the southern Oxford County towns of Lovell and Waterford will drop out.

Barth, who easily defeated Democratic challenger Rockie Graham of Newry in last year's election, said he doesn't expect the redistricting to have any significant political effect on the district.

Rep. Rick Bennett, R-Norway, will continue to represent Greenwood and Norway, but his district will lose Oxford and gain West Paris and Waterford.

Bennett, who ran unopposed in the 1992 election, also said the redistricting is likely to have little practical political effect in his district.

Bennett, however, has not yet decided if he will seek reelection to the Maine House, or if he will take a shot at the big time and attempt to mount a challenge to U.S. Sen. George Mitchell.

Bennett said he will make his decision sometime after Labor Day.

Woodstock still out

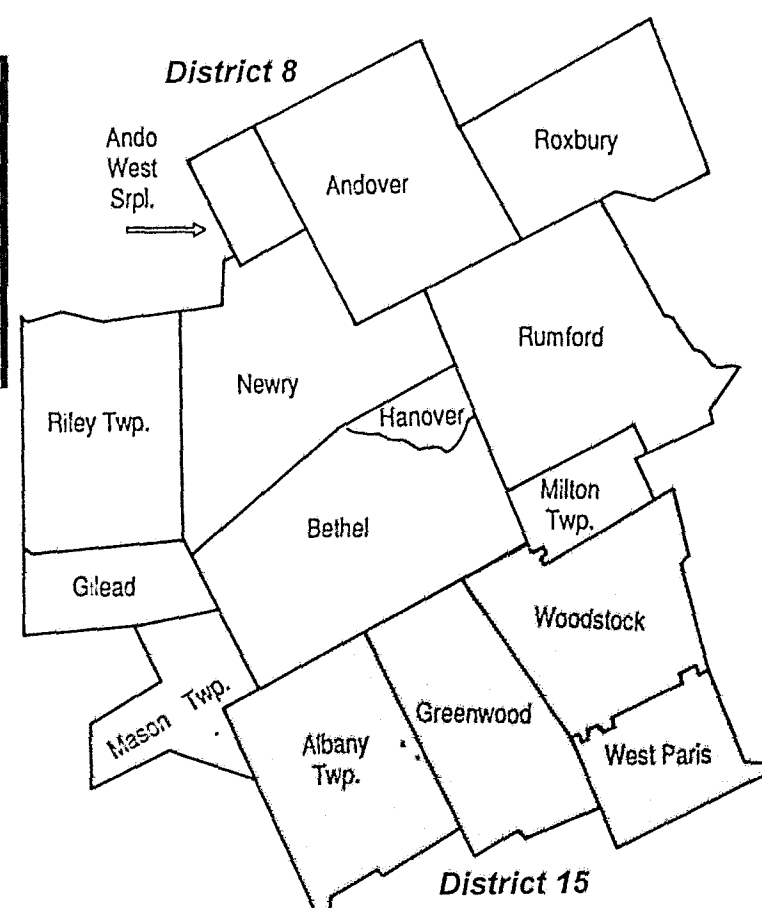

Prior to redistricting, Woodstock was in House District 52, where it was separated from other SAD44 towns and aligned in a gerrymandered district with Sumner, Roxbury and Mexico.

Under the redistricting, Woodstock will be joined in a new district with Rumford and Milton Plantation. It will remain separated from its fellow SAD44 towns.

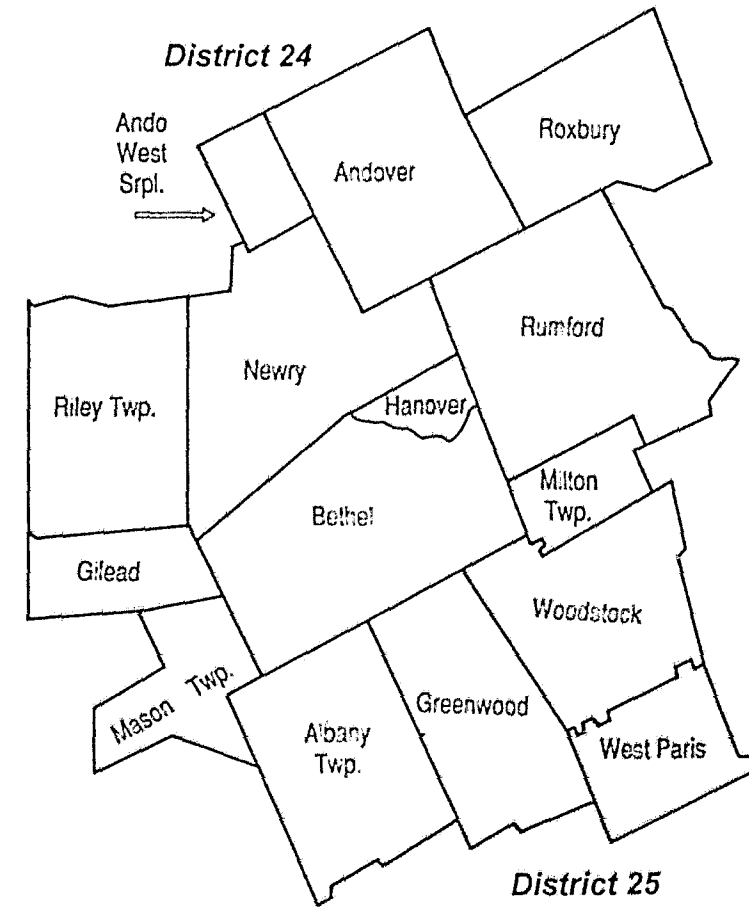

District 52 is currently represented by Robert Cameron, R-Rumford. In 1994, Cameron would be forced to face off against Rep. Phyllis Erwin, D-Rumford, assuming they both chose to seek reelection.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

David C. Smith, Bird Professor of American History at the University of Maine, presented the Annual Hall Memorial Lecture as the first event of the 14th annual Sudbury Canada Days, summer heritage festival of the Bethel Historical Society.

Smith, an Oxford County native with a Ph.D. from Cornell University, cited some half dozen major themes of Maine history in his lecture, ranging from geo-physical determinants, to the out-migration factor, to the relationship with Massachusetts. Dr. Smith provided numerous illustrations for his points gleaned from his long years of research in Maine history and from his numerous publications relating to Maine's past. His appearance at the society was funded with income from a bequest of Ralph and Marion Hall, longtime society members.

A 1922 silent film, "Timothy's Quest," was the next event on this year's schedule held in Gould Academy's Bingham Hall. Live piano accompaniment was provided by Danny Patt, who started playing for silent films in 1924 at the age of 12. "Timothy's Quest" was filmed in Maine and was written by Maine author Kate Douglas Wiggin. Shown by Northeast Historic Film, the film was brought to Bethel with funding from the Maine Arts Commission and the Hall Memorial Fund of the Bethel Historical Society.

On Saturday, many of the usual events were held, including the annual children's parade. This year's theme was "Frontier Characters." Winners included in the Cleverest category: George Gehrling, Eric Gehrling, Sarah Gamble; Most Rustic: Julie Day, Jackie Wheeler, Joshua Oliver; Cutest: Kelsey Gamble, Henry Gehrling, Ashley Oliver; Most Interesting: Lauren Conroy, Catlin Carroll, Rachel Carroll.

The flower show under the direction of Gertrude Hutchins and Barbara H. Brown featured over 60 bouquets from the following: Jane Vogt, Ruth Cox, Margaret Joy Tibbetts, Carole Duplessis, Gertrude Hutchins, Gerry Howe, Barbara H. Brown, Sue Kettinger, Helen Morton, Margaret Davis, Eva Ladd Schools, Danna Nickerson, Wendy Gray, Lorrie Hoeh, Mabel Kennett, Mary Keniston, Barbara Douglass, Sudie Vachon, Rachel MacKay, Barbara Lucas, and Elizabeth Mason Carter.

A wide variety of craftpersons were represented as well, arranged by Craft Committee Head Lorrie Hoeh. Historical videos were shown each afternoon in the Hastings' Homestead barn. An art show supervised by Helen Morton was held both Saturday and Sunday on the lawn of the Hastings' Homestead. The Middle Intervale Meeting House held a food sale on the lawn of the Dr. Moses Mason House on Saturday.

A farming-logging exhibit was held both Saturday and Sunday in the Hastings' Homestead barn. Winners of the horseshoe-pitching contest were singles: first, Peter Nason; second, Miles Millett. Double winners were: first, Duane Bumps and Guy Sawin; second, George Gould and Peter Nason; third, Matt York and Howie Parsons.

Children's games supervised by Barbara Dunham and Bernice Caddigan assisted by Patty Noll were well-attended. Winners of the obstacle course were: Danielle Henley, first; Danielle Harrington, second; Ramsey Harrington, third. Winners in the water relay were: Chris Brooks, first; Isiah Longno, Francis Harrington. The sack race was won by Julie Day. The water relay was won by team one consisting of Chris Brooks, Isiah Longno and Francis Harrington. The dash was won by Ramsey Harrington, Chris Brooks and Daniel Harrington. The rope jumping (ages 8-9) contest was won by Sarah Gamble, followed by Fred Gehrling in second place and Jackie Wheeler. In the contest for rope jumping, ages 10-12, the winner was Julie Day, followed by Ramsey Harrington and in third place, Chris Brooks. Ages 6-7 rope jumping winners were Michelle Henley in first place followed by George Gehrling and Daniel Harrington, second and third respectively. The ice cream eating contest was won by Chris Brooks, followed by Martin Harrington and Julie Day.

Croquet tournament winners were: Daniel Harrington, first; Jim Anderson, second; Jennifer McKnight, third. Winners in the croquet tournament were: Ramsey Harrington, first; Chris Brooks, second; Fred Gehrling, third. The door prize, consisting of a set of four season placemats, was won by L.C. Porter of San Diego, Calif.

At the log driver's bean supper, those attending were entertained by the Bedard Trio. As usual the Special Projects Committee, chaired by Persis Post, did an outstanding job of presenting three types of beans, loads of salads, and a wide range of pies.

The old-time variety show featured a number of groups, including a gospel and fiddle group—Don Kallin, Russell Yates, the Howe family, and Carol Fiske.

Sunday afternoon saw a repeat of the flower show, art show, historical videos, and the farming-logging exhibit. Randall H. Bennett, curator of collections of the Bethel Historical Society presented a slide show on the Sunday River Valley. An open house at the Lower Sunday River School House (1895) was also held. The final event of this year's Sudbury Canada Days was an enjoyable hymn-sing at historical Middle Intervale Meeting House led by Mary Valentine at the piano.

Much gratitude is extended to all those who made this year's summer heritage festival such a success.

Time to do the weekly items, and this time it is sad news. On Aug. 3, my brother-in-law Bob Grant was killed in a tragic accident with his tractor. It was a terrible shock to all of us and our sympathy and prayers are with his wife, Frances and sister and brother and close friends.

One day last week Cheryl Barnard took her daughter Lindsey to a Boston hospital for further tests on her high fever.

Paul Taylor and son David from New Hampshire and Portland have been at Gladys Kilgore's and doing painting and repairs to her house.

The chicken barbecue supper put on by Kezar Lake Grange and the Stoneham Rescue Saturday night was a huge success. They do a great job on this, and it is all for a good cause.

On Sunday, Richard and Debra Herrick and two sons and daughter, Wendy from Oxford called on Frances Grant and helped saw her wood.

Johnny Kahkonen from Norway has been spending a few weeks with Frances Grant helping with the farm work.

Ivan Curtis and family from Massachusetts have been at their camp at Lake Keewaydin.

Bonnie Taylor from Florida has been visiting her folks, Eloise and Frank Vail and family.

Jean MacKenzie arrived home last week from Nova Scotia and is in the Stephens Memorial Hospital with pneumonia. She is better at this writing.

The Fox Brothers have been doing some roof painting, etc., for Albert Nelson.

Eleanor Nelson entered Stephens Memorial Hospital on Aug. 10 for further treatment of atrial fibrillation and was again fortunate to have a room overlooking the beautiful courtyard that Winnie Clark has spent many hours making into a bright and cheerful area for all the patients, visitors and workers to enjoy the beautiful flowers and landscape. At this writing she is at home and feeling better.

Carole Nelson and a few of her employees from Flowers Etc. have gone to Washington, D.C. to a florist convention for five days.

Camp Susan Curtis was recently presented a $1,000 gift in scholarship money by Norway-Paris Kiwanis. This will benefit Norway-Paris area children attending Camp Susan Curtis, which is in its 20th year of offering summer fun to Maine's underprivileged children. This is one of many charities supported by the local Kiwanis.

Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER

The Upton School Board members, Amy Geiling, Laurie Brown and Tammy Grondin met with newly-elected Superintendent Donald Jenkins at the town office. The school auditor, Mr. Mannis will be at the office Aug. 23 to audit the books.

Upton will send five students to Telstar or SAD44 schools on Sept. 1. Jim Holden, who is making his home with his uncle Dope Goodrum and Babe, is the additional student.

Parental rights were discussed at the meeting. Parents do not have the right to request a specific teacher for their child nor to enter a classroom at his own free will. They may accept or reject a counselor.

Concern was expressed that the Upton school bus does not display a "School Bus" sign.

Mr. Jenkins described the operation of Crescent Park students in portables at Telstar and invited parents and board members to check it out. Home schooling procedures and requirements were explained by Mr. Jenkins.

The next meeting will be held on Sept. 30 at 7 p.m.

The Alzheimers Maine Chapter is conducting a third annual Memory Walk in October. I have signed up and am requesting each of my readers to sponsor me as generously as they can. The money will be used for research to help wipe out or modify this terrible disease. Checks should be made out to Alzheimers Association, 86 Pleasant Hill Road, Scarborough, ME 04074. Please enclose a notation that you are sponsoring me. For further information, call the office at 883-2871 or 1-800-660-2871. Thank you.

Roland Bernier has been transferred from Swampscott Nursing Home in Windham to Market Square Health Care Center in order to be closer to family and friends.

The Ladies' Aid Fair is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 28. Cookbooks will be available.

Bryant Pond

By ALICE HOYT

Bryant Pond hour, Tuesday, 7 p.m. on Channel 4. Speaker on Aug. 24 will be Rev. Wendall Calder, title: "Wisdom the Principal Thing."

The exhibits in the historical museum are arranged to help you enjoy them to the best advantage. The Historical Society tries to be educational and informative. We all can learn more about historical topics. Do you like to read biographies of famous people? Do you try to follow current events? Are you curious about your town or area? The Historical Society offers you this lively description of a character by the author Thomas Hardy, "that he was a desultory tentative student of something and everything might only have been predicted of him." Kathleen Bean and Ruby Emery watched the museum recently. Curator Larry Billings has given the historical museum a decorative tin with the scene of Revolutionary times. The plant sale at the museum will be Aug. 21 from 1 to 4 p.m. Anyone who wishes to donate house plants or perennials may leave them at the museum from 12:30 to 1 or with Kathleen McAllister or Anne Crockett at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hoover and Marybeth are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoyt this week.

Sunday, Ken Hoyt was given a surprise retirement party at JoAnn and David Crockett's given by his four children—Elizabeth, JoAnn, James and Robert. Around 60 people attended.

Tuesday, Ken and Alice Hoyt, Beatrice Farnum, Steve, Beth and Marybeth Hoover had a picnic at Screw Auger Falls. Beth, Steve, Marybeth and Ken climbed Step Falls.

Debra Millett was guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hathaway on Tuesday evening.

Marybeth Hoover visited with her great-grandmother Beatrice Farnum on Wednesday. Crystal Chase also visited her grandmother on Wednesday.

So. Woodstock

By ANDREA WING

Esther Davis went to her Canton High School reunion on Saturday. This made 62 years since she had graduated in the class of 1931. 1939 was the highest class represented at the reunion.

Sunday, Esther Davis and two friends went to Livermore. They took a picnic along and enjoyed the scenery and their lunch at Bretton Pond. They then traveled on to visit Esther's sister Emily and Kenneth Pike in So. Livermore. They all had a very enjoyable day.

Dale and Pammy Hadley's children, Amanda, Kim and Nikki stay with their grandmother Maudealice Hadley during the week.

Anyone can purchase vegetarian meats and baked goods at the Multi Purpose Building (next to the church school) Thursdays from 1 to 6 in the afternoon. Burna Wilson will be glad to help you if you're interested.

Jeff Campbell is mowing the South Woodstock Cemetery this week. He keeps it looking real nice.

Friday, Andrea Wing went to the sale at Sandra and Ken Poland's new place near Trap Corner. While there she took time to look around inside. There are antiques, crafts, baked foods and much more. Claribel and Rosalie Poland are on hand to help with the tour. It is a very interesting place and worthwhile to stop by for a looksee, if you have a chance.

Andrea visited her brother Vernon Poland at the Ledgeview Nursing Home on Sunday afternoon. Vernon's wife Tommy and daughter Judi Brown were there also. Judi and a friend have been touring the sights in England, Italy, France and other places this summer. Judi filled Andrea in on what she saw and the happenings—sounded great.

Jessie Hart attended a party with friends in West Bethel recently.

Larry and Pam Poland are receiving congratulations on the birth of twin boys, Dylan and Derek.

Marta and Nick Clements have returned from a five-week trip across the United States. They took the time to visit old classmates and relatives along the way. They are glad to be home and Marta said, "The land around our United States is just magnificent." Pam Benson tended their house and cats while they were away.

Jerold Mason is building a new home on Curtis Hill. Nice spot.

Harry Hutchinson is getting wood out on the Curtis Hill Road. He is doing it with a team of horses. A real sight to see these days.

Lola and "Yogi" Dillingham were surprised with a cookout on Thursday evening given by their children, Craig, Bridie and baby Tyler Craig. Bridie had made a large salad and Yogi was in charge of grilling the hamburgers.

Yogi and Lola have been helping Lola's dad, Leo Hemmingway of Oxford, by getting his wood split for the winter. Lola drove her dad to the doctor in Lewiston on Wednesday and on Thursday drove him back to CMMC hospital for surgery.

The Willing Workers' meeting notices will appear in this column.

If anyone has news they would like to share, please give me, Andrea Wing, a call at 674-2102 and I will be glad to put it in the paper.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

My walk today carried me through rolling country where the land was like great swells that lifted me up and tobogganed me down into a trough beyond.

The old wood road gave me a sense of expectancy which goes with me at these times when nothing unusual happens. Very small things are enough to give that start of pleasure; a partridge rose from behind the wall, small birds flew in and out of the ferns along the roadside, a band of color, beaded by scarlet berries and cherries were on bushes.

I crossed the brook, low now, but seeking its way in endless wandering. Overset Mountain with its gray granite seemed as usual; painted by the rains and brushed by the winds over many years.

Chipmunks along the walls were running about or sitting upright, looking very cunning. The stripes on their sides curve as they sit and are very conspicuous and pretty. The hawks must get many of these inexperienced little creatures.

I looked to Patch Mountain where our town started and thought of the little cemetery which I recently visited. Generations of settlers sleep there. The once fertile farms cleared and tilled by those that rest there are no more. The cellar holes remain and the orchards are now a picture of man's defeat.

As I looked about how truly glorious seemed the landscape, the mountains, valleys, meadows, brooks with the blue sky bending over all.

It was a nice walk and a beautiful day; that was my thought during the remainder of the day.

I am another year older for I had a birthday this week. How time goes. Ann invited me to dinner and had friends in. It was very festive and I was pleased to be so honored. It was a fun time and I received lovely gifts. The mail was interesting for I received 38 cards. I also had several telephone calls. So I was truly well remembered. Thanks to everyone and a special thank you to "my Ann."

My nephew did some bush cutting and other trimming this week for me so that was a gift, too.

Rena Curtis and several members of her family have gone to Ohio to attend the 25th wedding anniversary party for her son, Kenneth and wife Helen, who live in Spencer.

Lucy Bragg was given a bridal shower on Aug. 7. Her sister Kathy Curtis, Kimetha Rouke and I attended.

I had a letter from my neighbors who are in Alaska for several weeks. After attending church I was at the farm for the day. There were several other callers.

At church today I had more cards and a surprise cake. Many thanks for all who took part.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts visited friends last weekend.

The West Paris A's minor league team had an awards ceremony and parents vs. sons game recently. The sons won this year, 12 to 6. After the game the boys received trophies from Rhoda and John O'Leary. After the awards were handed out, they went to the Inman camp on Hicks Pond for a cookout. They also enjoyed swimming, water skiing and boating.

Vance and Connie Bacon were camping at Winslow Park in Freeport recently.

Ida Gurney has returned home after being a patient at Maine Medical Center for several weeks. Best wishes and better health to you, Ida.

There is a display of Martha Day's paintings at the West Paris Public Library. The library hours are Monday, 1:30 to 5; Wednesday, 1:30 to 7; Friday, 1:30 to 5.

Vernon G. Inman has returned home after spending a week at Camp Washington located in Washington, Me. He had a very fun time while there. Ian McLean attended also.

Walter Inman, Jr. spent time at his aunt Linda Lawton's camp on Twitchell Pond recently. He also got to visit his cousins, Amy and Aaron Miller from New Jersey.

By FLORENCE HALL

Julie Ann Stack and daughter Denise, Lafayette, N.J., visited grandparents Julie and Norman White and sister Sandra Delano and family.

Louise (Averill) Stringer, San Jose, Calif., and two daughters were in Andover visiting friends. They called at the Manor to see Florence Hall and Gertrude Hutchins.

Louise Powell, Frye and Bernice Wing, Dixfield visited Alma Hewey.

Alfred Marston, So. Portland, son Chris and friend Chad and daughter Tiffanie were at aunt Florence Hall's over the weekend.

On Sunday Donna Meisner came to get Tiffanie and the boys to go camping at South Arm for a few days. Tiffanie flew to Oklahoma on Thursday to begin her second year at college.

Thought of the day: Cooked-up excuses usually sound half-baked.

Jerry Bernier has been visiting his cousin Joe Bergeron in Upton. Dora Halman and daughter Whitney and friend Kim and her daughter from Durham visited Arlene Harrington recently.

Ken Scribner is now painting George Haines' house on Kimball Hill.

Elise Rand of Weld, Ruth Swan and Clare Holman of Dixfield were recent visitors at the Bartlett Homestead.

High Street

West Paris

By RUSSELL YATES

Today is the 9th day of August. The skies are clearing and I should be out working in the garden, but first I must fill you in on our doings for the past week, as we have been real busy people.

August 2nd was another day for Peggy to do her card work at Laverdiere's. I worked around here and one job that I did was to take the handles off our old lawn mower, as they broke the last time that Peggy mowed the lawn. My old lawn mower is one that I bought from Ames Department Store about five years ago. It was the lowest-priced mower that I could find, and it wasn't built to last for so many years, but it still does the job, and Peggy's son-in-law says, "don't ever get rid of that lawn mower. It's the best lawn mower that I ever used."

Anyway, I took the lawn mower handle to my nephew, David Yates, for repairs and he braised it for me. Peggy has mowed the lawn once since then and the handles held. Monday evening, we attended Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond. Tuesday was another busy day for us. I cut what broccoli was ready to be cut and we put 10 bags of it into the freezer. I worked outside some, and as we planned to go to Pomona, Peggy made a pie to take to help with supper. We had company in the afternoon, but it was almost too hot to work out in the sun so we visited and enjoyed our company. That evening we went to Pomona Grange. It was hosted by Pleasant Valley Grange in West Bethel. We were glad to meet there once again, as I had been a few years since Pomona had met with them. We hope that they will host Pomona again next year. They served us an excellent supper, and we had a very nice Pomona meeting, thanks to Pleasant Valley Grange.

Wednesday was another real busy day. Peggy and my brother's wife picked the bush string beans while I gathered broccoli and got it cut up ready to freeze. We gave the neighbors most of the string beans, and we blanched the broccoli and bagged another 10 bags for the freezer. We have lots in the freezer that were left from last year. That afternoon we went to Auburn and visited Myrna and Bernard White for a while then went on to Pine Tree Grange in Lisbon in time for supper. They were hosting Visiting Officers' Night for Androscoggin Pomona, and we were invited to serve as officers. Peggy took the office of Pomona and I filled in as Gatekeeper. We enjoyed a nice supper and a very interesting meeting. As I am a Pomona Master, I enjoy seeing others conduct a meeting. Thursday, Peggy and I both worked in the garden, digging and pulling weeds and grass for much of the forenoon. We had an early dinner and then went to visit sister Viva at Victorian Villa Boarding Home in Canton. We found Viva doing quite well, or about the same as usual.

There will be a dance at West Sumner Grange Hall on Aug. 21, with music furnished by the Richard Fell Orchestra.

There will be installation of the new officers for Franklin and West Paris Granges at Franklin Grange in Bryant Pond on Sept. 6. Installation will be preceded by a 6:30 supper. Wayne Sherman, State Grange Chaplain, and his team will do the installation.

Oxford Pomona 2 will have installation of the new officers at Pleasant Pond Grange in West Sumner on Sept. 7. Gordon Gartley, State Grange Assistant Steward, and his team will do the installing. I sincerely hope that all of the officers elected will show up for these installations and that there will be a large attendance to observe.

NOVA to set up testing center

By WENDY HANSCOM

The Northern Oxford Vocational Area has received a $50,000 grant to help establish a vocational assessment center.

The center will offer extensive testing in aptitude and attitudes toward employment, according to NOVA administrator Dewaine Craig.

Testing at the assessment center will help students and adults match their skills and interests to vocational jobs, Craig said.

Businesses can also use the service to help better match prospective employees to available jobs, he said.

The project will be undertaken in collaboration with a project manager from the Northern Oxford County Council on Transition, which helps disabled people make the transition from school to the workplace.

The center will be located at NOVA offices in Rumford. In addition to the grant, NOVA officials will also seek alternative funding. Assessment will be free for the first year, but if the project remains part of NOVA, Craig said it's likely a fee will be established, with NOVA students receiving a discount.

JOLAN IPPOLITO PROMOTED

The Sunday River Ski Resort has promoted Jolan Ippolito to the position of vice president of corporate affairs. Ippolito oversees legal and financial documentation, personnel, corporate insurance and the resort's risk management program.

A graduate of Colby college, Ippolito taught middle school, high school and adult education for 12 years before joining Sunday River's staff in 1982.

Ippolito also chairs the board Maine Employer's Mutual Insurance Company, the newly-formed worker's compensation company. She has served on the Town of Rumford Finance Committee since 1988.

Ippolito lives in Rumford Point with her husband and three children.

DOYON PROMOTED AT MHS

Maine Handicapped Skiing Executive Director Paula Wheeler has announced that Betsy Doyon, administrative assistant at MHS since 1988, has accepted the newly-developed position of program director.

"As program director Doyon will be responsible for providing direction, coordination, and evaluation of the student, volunteer and technical programs. She brings a wealth of knowledge to this position due to the various tasks she performed as administrative assistant," Wheeler said.

"By creating this new position it will allow more people with disabilities to participate in MHS programs and enhance the quality of lessons," Wheeler said. "Betsy is looking forward to working closely with staff and supervisors to increase training of volunteers, students and their families."

CAN CHIROPRACTIC HELP ME?

HOW MUCH WILL IT COST?

We are often asked "What's the best way of finding out whether or not a doctor of chiropractic can help my problem?" We believe the answer can be found in a complete chiropractic consultation and examination including x-rays. And to help you find out for sure, we will do a complete chiropractic consultation and examination, including x-rays (procedures may normally cost $110.00 or more) for $25.00

Dr. Joseph DeMarco

SUMMER
HEALTH
SPECIAL

$25.00 Reg. $110
Program Expires August 31, 1993

Your initial visit will include:

- ✓ A private consultation with the doctor
- ✓ X-rays, if considered necessary
- ✓ A thorough spinal examination including orthopedic & neurological test
- ✓ A confidential report of our findings
- ✓ An explanation of our treatment procedure if we determine chiropractic can help you
- ✓ A referral to the proper specialist if we determine chiropractic can't help you.

These conditions are some of the danger signals:

- ✓ Headaches
- ✓ Fatigue
- ✓ Arthritic pain by stiff neck
- ✓ Loss of sleep
- ✓ Tension
- ✓ Scoliosis (curvature of the spine)
- ✓ Leg pain and numbness
- ✓ Arm pain and numbness
- ✓ Backache

Taxes in Newry and Andover up

By WENDY HANSCOM

Tax bills in Newry and Andover went out last week, and all taxpayers in Andover and most in Newry will have to dig a little deeper to pay their bills this year.

In Newry, a land revaluation upped some tax bills even though the town's mill rate went down.

And in Andover, selectmen say the SAD44 budget hike is responsible for a slight rise this year in tax bills.

Newry tax base broadens

The Summit Hotel at Sunday River Ski Resort and other new construction added to Newry's tax rolls this year was responsible for the 1.8 drop in the town's mill rate, according to selectman Steve Wight.

The town's new tax rate is $10.2 or $1,000 of assessed valuation. At that rate a house with $50,000 of assessed value would be charged about $510 in taxes—as opposed to $600 last year.

But some tax bills went up despite the lower mill rate, because most land valuation in the town has jumped, Wight said.

"If people's taxes went up," Wight said, "it's because their land value went up. Woodland owners taxed at $200 per acre last year are now taxed at $400 per acre for land not in tree growth. Landowners and people who live in close proximity to the ski area will probably see an increase—especially the chalet villages. The value of a house lot in Bear River also went up from $3,000 to $8,000."

Selectmen revalued all land in town because the town's valuation was falling behind the state's valuation of Newry.

The town valuation was at about 70 percent of what the state determined land in Newry was worth.

This year's total land valuation for the town is $116,111,848 up from $89,319,000 last year.

Newry paid SAD44 $777,928 last year and was assessed $894,490 this year.

School tax ups Andover bills

Andover selectmen say an increased assessment from SAD44 is responsible for the town's increase from $11.65 to $12.

Taxpayers with $50,000 of assessed value paid $582.50 last year. This year's bill on $50,000 will go up to $600.

The estimated value of real estate in Andover is $35.8 million.

Selectman Wayne Delano said the tax commitment of $619,233 contains a mere $6,800 overlay.

"This is about as low as you can get for an increase," Delano said. "If you figure out the difference, it is just about the amount the school budget went up. We in town are certainly doing all we can do to hold the line on spending."

Andover was assessed $435,064 in school taxes for FY '93 and $457,153 this year.

Town officials in Greenwood and Woodstock are still working on setting new mill rates. Officials from both towns said tax bills should be going out within the next two to three weeks.

Bethel tax bills are expected to go out shortly after the new tax rate is set in September, according to Town Clerk Merton Brown.

The tax rate is expected to remain steady or go up only slightly.

The Bethel Library

This week there were many children who completed the Summer Reading Program; Billy Murphy, Elizabeth Reed, Riley Gilbert, Sarah Reed, Sarah Swan, Sadie Cole, Dale Thompson, Justine Carver, Michael Cross, Jennifer Cross, Charlie Rice, Kurt Wight, Katie Wight, Kevin Wight, Andrea Pivin, Jaqui Wheeler, Charles Dresser, Jordan Cummings.

The field trip for first graders and up to the new Children's Museum of Maine will be Aug. 23. Come in and pick up a permission slip if you haven't done so. The party for preschoolers and kindergartners will be in early September, details forthcoming.

This Friday, Aug. 20, at 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. there will be the performance of "The Crowded Cottage" by Eve Jacob. It will be the highlight of this week of concentrated rehearsals taking place at the Bethel Library. Gail Sysko will direct 15 to 20 students of all ages in this one-act play about 12 people living in a small house and how they find lots of extra room. Come cheer on your child, grandchild or favorite neighbor. The library is also open Friday night for your own enjoyment.

BETHEL SENIOR CITIZENS

The Bethel Senior Citizens met recently at Stony Brook Camp-ground and were hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Powell. It was a beautiful day and the food was delicious. President Helen Saunders welcomed the group, and Lindley Wieden gave many announcements. The group sang "Happy Birthday" to the birthday people: Dorothy Bean, Olive Head, Richard Brown, Arlene Lowell, Irene Russell, Jeanette Kimball, Betty Blake, Eunice Powell, Verna Thayer and Irene Onofrio.

Wieden announced members could get free passes to national and state parks for people aged 62 and over. The state park passes are available at any state park.

There will be help on "1993 Tax and Rent Rebate Assistance for the Elderly" at the Methodist Church, Bethel, on Aug. 17 at 10:30 a.m. to noon and the Bethel House at 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The bus trip to Augusta on Oct. 18 will start at 8 a.m. from the Health Center. The admission to the state museum is $1. The group will stop for lunch in Winthrop.

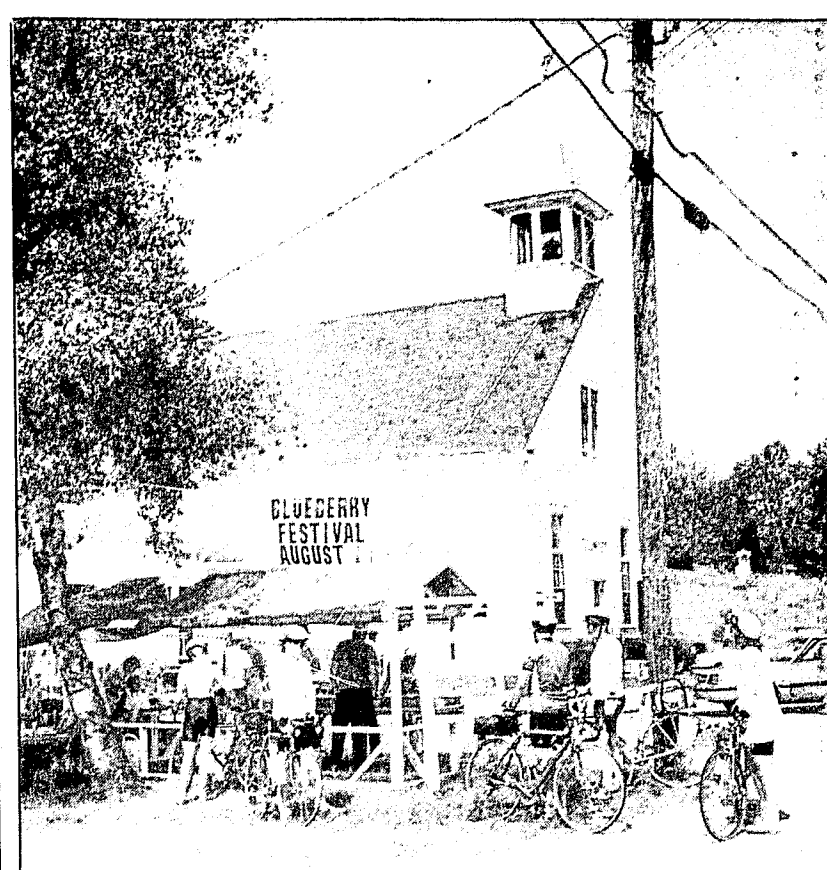

The fall foliage trip through Franconia Notch will be Oct. 15 and will cost $20.

The next meeting will be at Locke Mills Town Hall on Sept. 8.

There was a very successful auction, led by Betty Perkins.

Drug sweep

Milligan said Paul sold a variety of prescription drug pills to an undercover agent. The charge is considered a felony crime because he sold the drugs from her Bethel House apartment, which is within 1,000 feet of a school—Gould Academy, he said.

Paul consented to a search at the time of her arrest, and police seized several different kinds of prescription drugs from her apartment, Milligan said.

Paul's case is also expected to be presented to the next grand jury next month, he said.

If convicted, Paul faces a maximum sentence of up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Earlier arrests

Earlier in the "Operation Stearns" investigation, the Maine DEA and Bethel police arrested three other Bethel residents on drug-related charges.

Randolph Mills, 42; Michael McAllister, 20; and Joyce McAllister, 27 were arrested on June 29 for aggravated trafficking in marijuana by cultivation.

Police had obtained a search warrant, Milligan said, which allowed them to enter the residence and search for marijuana and other drug related evidence. Police seized 20 marijuana plants growing around the residence, a variety of pills, marijuana seeds, paraphernalia and other drug-related evidence, Milligan said.

The charges were elevated (aggravated) to a felony because when police entered the residence a loaded rifle was found next to one of the defendants in the living room, Milligan said.

Charges against the three will probably go before the grand jury in September, Milligan said. If convicted, they face fines up to $5,000 and maximum five-year prison terms.

Milligan said it is up to the District Attorney's Office and the grand jury to file more charges or change charges against any of the defendants arrested during the Bethel drug sweep.

Juveniles counseled, marijuana plants pulled

During "Operation Stearns" police also seized roughly 30 marijuana plants off the Westwoods Road in West Bethel in July, according to Chief Bellman. No one has been charged for growing the plants yet, he said, but police have suspects.

Milligan said he and Bethel police also talked to a group of juveniles suspected of attempting to buy LSD, (Lysergic Acid Diethylamide) commonly known as "acid."

"Police were able to prevent the reported LSD sale by talking with the would-be juvenile buyers before the transaction was to take place," Milligan said.

Bellman and drug agents warned the juveniles that LSD is a dangerous drug and has the potential to cause severe, irreversible damage and in some cases death, Milligan said.

The drug is usually sold on square, perforated, impregnated blotter paper, often with cartoon characters on them, he said. Users of LSD lick the drug off the paper.

Even in Bethel

Although DEA agents have investigated drug-related activities in Bethel in the past, this is the first substantial cooperative effort with the Bethel Police Department, Milligan said.

"We want people to know that drugs are out there—even in Bethel," Milligan said. "and that police will do everything in their power to make an impact on drug dealers."

"We've only made a small impact in the Bethel area, but we plan to continue with our drug investigations and hope to make more drug seizures and arrests in the months to come."

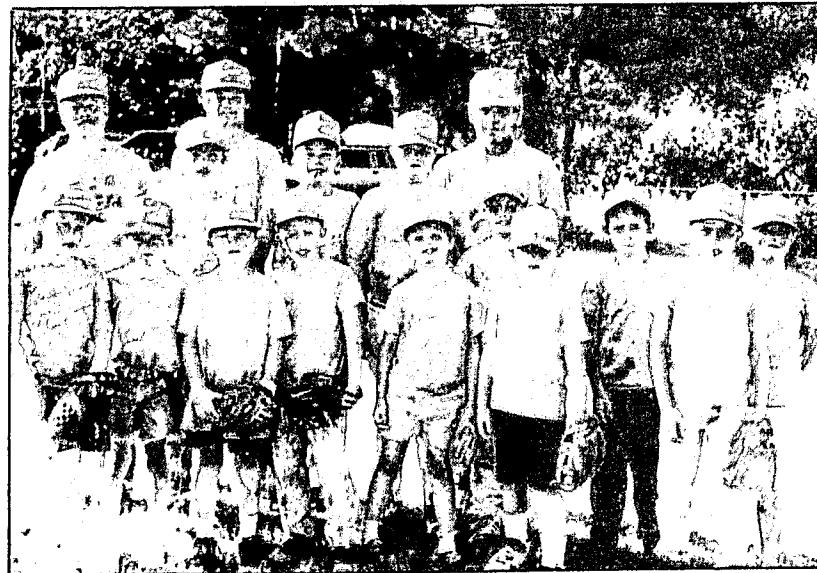

Milligan said the Maine DEA and local police get most of their drug-fighting tips from concerned citizens.

"Most of our drug investigations are initiated by citizens who make a phone call to report on illegal drug activity," he said. "Citizens can assist us by reporting any suspicious drug activity or marijuana growths by calling the Maine Drug Enforcement Agency's hot-line at 1-800-452-6457 anonymously. Operation Stearns has concluded, but our drug investigations in the area will continue."

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

It was announced at the Unit's special meeting on Aug. 12 that the Post will be hosting the annual family picnic at the Legion Hall in Locke Mills on Aug. 19 at 6 p.m. There will be the usual items furnished. All members are urged to attend and bring their families.

The meeting was also held for the purpose of firming up plans for the sale at Whitman Memorial Library on Aug. 14 and the Chicken Barbecue and special Super Bingo at the Legion Hall on Aug. 15.

The new pocket two-year calendar planners have arrived and members were urged to do some of their Christmas shopping early by buying them. Money earned will help pay the expenses for members to attend the Fall Conference planned for Sept. 25 at Sunday River Ski Resort.

The purpose of the conference is to inform the membership of the activities planned for the coming year designed to carry out the aims and purposes of the organization. It is a good time to find out what the programs are all about and how each member can help in accomplishing the Auxiliary's work of helping the veterans, the families of veterans and their communities, local and world.

It is an excellent learning opportunity and the Unit president would like to have as many members as possible participate this year when it is so close. More information will appear in the soon-to-be-mailed newsletter and in the newspapers in the coming month.

USDA - Forest Service
White Mountain National Forest
Evans Notch Ranger District

On August 13, 1993, District Ranger Rolly Ortegón signed a decision to remove 16 metal culverts from the Bickford Brook trail, located in the Towns of Stow and Batchelder's Grant, Oxford County, Maine. The project involves digging up culverts of various sizes and hauling them out of the forest. The culverts will be replaced with drainage structures made of native materials and designed to handle expected run-off. This project is necessary to provide adequate drainage and to protect the integrity of the Caribou-Speckled Mountain Wilderness.

The Decision Memo is available upon request from the Evans Notch Ranger District, RR#2 Box 2270, Bethel, ME 04217.

This decision is subject to appeal pursuant to Forest Service regulations 36 CFR Part 217. Appeals must be filed no later than October 4, 1993. Legal Notice of this decision was first published in the Lewiston Sun-Journal, Lewiston, Maine, on August 18, 1993.

USDA - Forest Service
 White Mountain National Forest
 Evans Notch Ranger District
 On August 11, 1993, District Ranger Holly Ortegón signed a decision will proceed with the construction of snowmobile trail to the top of Adams Mountain, located in the Town of Stoneham, Oxford County, Maine. The project involves clearing brush from existing logging roads, constructing about one half mile of new trail, and installing bridges or culverts at six brook crossings. The trail will serve as a connector to the Maine ITS 80 trail.
 The Decision Memo is available upon request from the Evans Notch Ranger District, RR2, Box 2270, Bethel, ME 04217.
 This decision is subject to appeal pursuant to Forest Service regulations 36 CFR Part 217. Appeals must be filed no later than September 27, 1993. Legal Notice of this decision was first published in the Lewiston Sun-Journal, Lewiston, Maine, on August 12, 1993.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Morin

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Palmer of San Jose, Calif., are pleased to announce the recent marriage of their daughter Shelley Palmer to Raymond Morin.

The two were married on Aug. 7 at the Newry Community Church. A reception immediately followed at the Locke Mills Legion Hall. Nancy Annis, sister of the groom served as matron of honor and, Kathie Cole, friend of the bride served as bridesmaid. Flower girl was Jessica James, daughter of the bride and ring bearer was Brandon James, son of the bride.

Harry Verrill, friend of the groom, served as best man. Randall Palmer, brother of the bride, served as usher.

Linda Stowell was the pianist and Debbie Luxton sang at the ceremony.

The wedding cake was made by Sally Smith.

Duties would be to assist the leader at meetings each week and to help organize and plan meetings and events. Meetings are held on Wednesdays during the school year from 2:30 to 4 p.m. at the West Parish Congregational Church. Information: call 824-3657 and ask for Sue.

West Paris volunteer honored

By DUANE HAYES

Community volunteer Doreen Benson of West Paris was honored Sunday for her service to the public through the local rescue squad, school system and children's home.

The tribute was sponsored by the Mission Congregational Church and is one of a series of programs recognizing area citizens for their voluntary service to West Paris and surrounding communities.

Benson's contributions include membership in Tri-Town Rescue, organizing and leading its search and rescue team, and serving as president of Tri-Town Rescue Auxiliary currently. She has also worked at numerous fund-raising activities for the unit.

The busy volunteer also was honored for her work with handicapped children at Crescent Park School in Bethel; organizing a support group for families of men and women who served in the Persian Gulf War; and working at the Appleby's Children's Home in West Paris.

Benson is an Emergency Medical Technician who has also studied sign language to assist deaf people. She worked for two years as a physical therapy aide at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

And, she adds, "I've babysitted a lot of children in my time."

The children include three of her own who attended Sunday's service: Lauren, 26, of West Paris; Dean, 22, of the U.S. Army in Fort Hood, Texas; and Devin, 18, of West Paris who will attend Central Maine Technical College in Auburn this fall.

Her mother, Ruth Pulsifer of Mt. View Apartments, West Paris, also attended Sunday's program. Her brother, Kenny Pulsifer of West Paris was unable to attend.

"If you have faith, family and friends that is what life is really about," she told the congregation. She thanked those who made her special day possible and said she plans to continue to serve the communities in her area as long as possible.

She was presented a bouquet of flowers and a plaque in her honor.
